Re: Distance Learning Availability and Access

Governor Roy Cooper issued a school closure as a means to reduce the spread of the Coronavirus/COVID-19 across public school systems in North Carolina. In compliance with this mandate, Guilford County Schools is closed effective March 16 through March 27. Our school district is transitioning to a digital learning environment effective March 23. STEM Early College wants to promote ease of access during this transition by providing online teacher and staff availability. Our goal is to ensure we do not have an educational opportunity gap. Maintaining a high degree of transparency and availability will make this transition better for us all.

The chart below indicates the teacher, subject, office hours or mode of instructional delivery, and the time of instructional delivery. Students should log into Canvas at the time that aligns with the course or teacher indicated in the chart. Families should look to Canvas to access links to the various live stream options. For example, a student taking Mr. McKnight for math III should access his live-streamed lesson each day from 10-11:30am. The instructional delivery times are staggered by grade level to ensure students can access their teachers each day. If you are currently enrolled in an online course, continue to work in that course at other times during the day.

Thanks for your continued support during this time. Please feel free to call us from 10am-2pm at (336) 370-8580.
