How can I help my child get ready for kindergarten?

- Make sure your child gets plenty of sleep each night (10 to 12 hours recommended).
- Show interest in your child's play by talking about it or joining them. Ask questions and introduce some new ideas. For example, if your child is playing grocery store, use old food boxes and write the "price" of the food on the box. You can cut up paper to use for money and "buy" things at the store.
- Talk about feelings with your child. Talk about how people feel when things happen. For example, "Your grandfather is happy when you draw him a picture."
- Offer your child a variety of healthy foods and teach him to clean up small spills. Have your child help with mealtime routines.
- Try to leave enough time for your child to dress him/herself. Have your child practice with zippers and buttons.
- Encourage your child to try new challenges such as climbing, kicking, catching, and throwing.
- Talk with and listen to your preschooler by asking and answering questions. Introduce new words, when possible.
- Whatever language you speak at home, continue to use it at home and in our community. Learning two languages is good for a child's brain development!
- Try to read picture books every day. Read the words or make up your own story. Talk about the pictures and ask questions about the story. Re-read favorite stories.
- Ask your child to tell stories.
- Encourage your child's interests and curiosity. Get books from the library about things your child finds interesting such as sports, insects, super heroes, or flowers
- Count and measure things in your daily routines. Ask questions to encourage your child to count, compare, and predict. For example, "Let's count how many cars are parked on this street."
- Provide opportunities for your child to cut, paste, draw, and write.
- Practice identifying the following colors: red, yellow, green, purple, orange, blue, brown, and black.
