6. Students and parents. We look forward to this new semester. To refocus our students and engage them in learning we have some updates designed to improve things: including a new cell phone policy, attendance- unexcused absences, completion of assignments, and cellphone usage in the classroom. The goal of these changes are to ensure all are accountable for their behaviors, paying attention in class, and working to their fullest potential. All the information will be posted on our webpage and sent home with students this week. It is important you review this information with your students as if they do not meet these expectations there will be consequences.

Thank you for listening to the announcements.

We are One Team with One Dream!

Go Panthers.
