Supplies:

1 or 2 lined composition notebooks (will be used for grading and are fifty cents at Wal-Mart)

Pencils or pens

Folder could be useful for larger handouts that students don't want to fold

Optional: highlighters, colored pencils/markers, larger binder or notebook if students want to take

Students must abide by the Weaver Honor Code written below. This INCLUDES using AI for classwork or homework.

I will abide by the Weaver Honor Code. I will not give or receive unpermitted assistance in the preparation of any work or assessment that is to be used by the instructor as the basis of grading.

This course is required for students completing the Weaver dance program. It is an elective course for all other students.

I am currently still working on a full outline for the course. It's going to include major body systems such as integumentary system, nervous system, respiratory system, lymphatic system, cardiovascular system, digestive system, endocrine system, etc. We're going to make connections throughout with the systems since they all have to work together. The course will include a lot of hands-on activities, a dissection, and use of microscopes. I want to use composition notebooks in the class because science labs use composition notebooks (yes, even in the digital age, the old composition notebooks are great ways to see the data from experiments and write protocols).
